Catherine for the Chop after King finds infidelities!

By Court Reporter Neil Lodhia

Our glorious King Henry has sentenced his wife Catherine Howard to death today at 12:05. He knew that Catherine was dating other boys.

Catherine is the daughter of Edmund Howard and the 1st cousin of Anne Boleyn. Henry married Katherine Howard 16 days after his divorce from Anne of Cleves on 28 July 1560.

At court everyone believed that Katherine had many relationships with many boys.

She was caught out many times and her lady in waiting said "She always came to bed at 12:00 and at day time she did not stay at our house. She would go out and leave Henry alone,"

This was getting too much for Henry and he tried her for adultery. Yesterday Henry decides that he should execute her.

After the execution, I went to the executioner and he said, "I found it hard to chop her head off because she wriggled. Henry made the right choice though,"

Henry is now very happy that Katherine is dead and pleased with his executioner.

I also met Henry's advisor he said, "I definitely think Kathryn dated other boys. Henry made the right choice."

Henry has now married 5 wives what will he do now???
